

ANNUAL REPORT 2020

BELIEVE in HOPE

OUR MISSION

As the charitable arm of the Archdiocese of Denver,
and inspired by God's love and compassion,
Catholic Charities extends the healing ministry of Jesus Christ to the poor and those in need.

WE BELIEVE IN HOPE

"You shall love your neighbor as yourself." – Matthew 22:39

To suggest that 2020 has been an unusual year would be something of a gross understatement. The entire planet has been confronted with the challenge of the Coronavirus pandemic, which has been completely indiscriminate in its effect on how we live our lives in literally every aspect. And while those challenges have been hard for the general public to manage, imagine what they have been like for the community of need served by Catholic Charities of Denver. Illness, unemployment and homelessness have risen almost exponentially creating demands that might seem almost insurmountable. But knowing that our Lord will never give us more than we are capable of handling, our team has been up to the challenge with the remarkable kindness and generosity of you, our donors and volunteers.

As it became clear last spring that the pandemic was much more serious than first thought, we had to mobilize in new ways across all our ministries. Not only did we need to continue to serve the people already engaged in our programs of support, we also had to step up to meet a significant new demand. People were coming to us in numbers unanticipated. Our mission to extend the healing ministry of Jesus Christ to the poor and those in need couldn't have been more clear. We needed to offer a hand up to all who came to our doors with food, clothing, safety and shelter.

We served our community by working with the City of Denver and community partners by moving the Women's Emergency and Transitional Shelter to the Denver Coliseum so we could help up to 300 women with 24/7 shelter, social distancing and full medical care. Our shelters in Larimer and Weld County also adapted to provide shelter and food while maintaining CDC guidelines. Early Childhood Education centers routinely packaged and delivered 300 boxes of food per week to meet the needs of low-income families whose children were served at its centers. Marisol Health saw a surge in patients requesting social services and material support and shifted to provide telemedicine and social services via telehealth. Gabriel House Project was forced to temporarily close almost all of its 13 locations due to a decline in volunteers, yet still broke records by collecting record numbers of diapers to distribute to needy families. Little Flower Assistance Center saw an increase of 60 percent of households requesting help with food. A partnership and donations from Meadow Gold Dairies and Food Bank of the Rockies helped fill the need. Archdiocesan Housing set up food banks at its locations to distribute groceries and household items to seniors and vulnerable tenants.

All the while, we also continued our daily continuum of care programs for our clients designed to end the cycle of poverty by ministering to the needs of the whole person – not a handout, but a hand up. These programs are critical in providing our clients with hope and dignity.

As noted in last year's Annual Report, a major and overdue remodel of Samaritan House shelter — built more than 33 years ago — has been undertaken. The first phase was completed this summer on the family floor, increasing the number of rooms and services available. The second phase has begun targeting upgraded and more modern sections for women and veterans; two fast-growing segments of the communities we serve. The third phase will begin later in 2021. This undertaking will make it possible to improve and enhance services to all our clients.

As you read this Annual Report, we hope you'll appreciate the depth and breadth of our work for the poor and those in need throughout Northern Colorado. Our goal is to give hope to our communities of need. That is only possible with you and with your support.

May God bless you all,

Darren A. Walsh
President & CEO

“For the needy will never be forgotten, nor will the hope of the afflicted ever fade.”

WHO WE ARE

Catholic Charities of Denver is one of the largest and most effective social service organizations in Colorado, founded in 1927. We serve tens of thousands of people in crisis annually. We offer shelter, affordable housing, early childhood education, counseling, emergency services, rent and utility assistance, employment, food and clothing, case management, family and senior services and much more. We collaborate with corporate partners, local businesses, nonprofit organizations, government agencies, medical facilities, educational institutions, parishes and other community partners. We work to alleviate and find solutions to some of the most pressing challenges that men, women and families face each day in our community.

WHO WE SERVE

We serve everyone in need. Inspired by the Gospel of Matthew, Chapter 25, we ask... Are you hungry? Are you tired? Are you cold? Are you sick? Do you need comfort? Do you need a place to sleep? If a person answers “yes” to any of these questions, we can help.

WHAT SETS US APART

Continuum of Care:

At Catholic Charities we serve along a “Continuum of Care,” addressing each family’s or individual’s unique needs at every age and stage of life. We served 92,941 men, women and children in need across Northern Colorado in fiscal year 2019-2020. That includes pregnant women in poverty, veterans experiencing homelessness and vulnerable seniors.

Good Steward of Financial Resources:

Of every Catholic Charities’ dollar, 86 cents went directly to programs to serve those in need.* We have received Charity Navigator’s high ratings on financial measures, accountability and transparency.

Commitment to Goals:

We operate with a “hand up” rather than a “handout” approach, helping people out of poverty and providing services that foster long-term goals and encourage independence. We recognize the dignity and uniqueness of everyone we encounter.

Isaiah 25:4

Catholic Charities provides shelter services and resources in five locations in Northern Colorado, including Denver County, Larimer County, Weld County and the Western Slope. Programs in these regions work closely with community partners to better address the specific needs of each region.

At Samaritan House and the Women’s Emergency Shelter in Denver, The Mission in Ft. Collins and the Guadalupe Community Center in Greeley, we meet the immediate needs for shelter, food and clothing of men and women in our emergency overnight shelters. At three of these locations, we also offer an extended-stay 120-day levels program for men, women and families to help break the cycle of homelessness. We provide case management, life skills classes, support groups and collaborative relationships with community partners to help residents restore hope and regain their sense of self-sufficiency.

On the Western Slope, we provide Emergency Assistance, Homeless Prevention Services, Community Integration Services and Immigration Services in the heart of Glenwood Springs.

Marcela and Michael were hit with devastating news while trying to support their three young children. Doctors diagnosed Michael with Lou Gehrig’s disease.

“I was just trying to work and we fell behind, and then he had got diagnosed with Lou Gehrig’s disease,” Marcela said. “I felt depressed some time because my husband was struggling to walk and had trouble holding things and I was about to have a baby.”

Struggling with the diagnosis and then the loss of her job, they were evicted from their apartment. On unemployment, the family moved into a motel and faced a future with very little hope.

While taking classes at Denver Human Services, Marcela heard about Samaritan House. When there was an opening on the family floor at the homeless shelter, they applied and got admitted.

Immediately, a case manager helped her with prenatal home visits and health and wellness during her pregnancy. Marcela was connected to Early Childhood Education, supplies through the Gabriel House Project and counseling.

While at Samaritan House, the family was able to pay off debts. Marcela created a budget and saved money. In March, the family was relieved to hear that their hard work had paid off and they would be moving into their new home.

Samaritan House is “a really good place with really good option(s) to lean forward. They opened the doors for me.”

“I was living in an apartment on the second floor with no elevator. It wasn’t working for me. I’m 63 years old and have arthritis. I moved into Holy Family Plaza in Denver (of Archdiocesan Housing). Then I got connected to all this support. They told me about today’s event, the Self-Care Fair at Mulroy Senior Center. I’m getting my haircut – it would cost me otherwise. The services are great. At Holy Family Plaza, they treat us as kings and queens. It was a big move for me.

Now I’m on the fourth floor with mountain views and a patio. There’s another perk, too. Everyone is so nice, and they treat us well. We get to meet others in the building. And you don’t feel so old. My idea of aging has changed.”

“I don’t need to be scared, because everything I need is there. I’m not isolated. I’m blessed.”

- Margaret

D. learned about Early Childhood Education when a Catholic Charities employee saw through social media that D. was pregnant and contacted her to share information about its Early Head Start Prenatal Program. D. agreed to participate and met with a prenatal home visitor. D. felt that God worked in mysterious ways and often uses others to reach out to those in need.

After having her baby, D. continued with Early Childhood Education’s Home Based Program, which includes home visits on a weekly basis and group socializations. D. said that for her, as a first-time mom, the support was greatly appreciated. It filled a void for her, she said.

D. would tell other moms to join the program and learn new ways to interact with their babies and have a support system.

“I didn’t know [the ECE Programs] would be such a big part of my life,” she said.

"You formed my inmost being; you knit me in my mother's womb. I praise you, because I am wonderfully made; wonderful are your works! My very self you know."

- Candace with her eldest daughter and two youngest children

"Before I moved into Marisol Homes, I was living in a drafty camper with my 2-year-old son. We had an extension cord running into an auto shop. I was parked behind it for electricity and there was no running water. It was very cold, but it kept the snow and rain out. To top it off, I was pregnant with twins. From nine weeks pregnant, I knew one of the twins would not survive due to a birth defect. It was a very difficult and high-risk pregnancy. I felt completely hopeless. I had no job, a 2-year old to take care of and twins on the way. My children's father was incarcerated, so I was on my own to take on all of this. I was scared. ...

One day my mother found Marisol Homes and contacted them to explain my situation with hopes they would help shelter us. They were more than willing to interview me the following day over the phone. It took about a week to hear back, but they accepted me and my son. My oldest daughter later moved in with us.

Marisol Homes was a godsend!

If it wasn't for them, I would have put my surviving daughter up for adoption and would have never got the footing I needed to get where I am today. They offered much needed counseling as well as many resources to help me get my life stable.

We now live in a beautiful three-bedroom apartment and have no real concerns any longer. They helped clear a path for me by assisting with building my credit up, too. I can't thank the staff and caseworkers enough for the life they have made possible for us! God bless you all!"

- Candace

“Cast all your worries upon him because he cares for you.”

1 Peter 5:7

St. Raphael Counseling is a comprehensive, community-based psychological service ministry grounded in Catholic moral teachings. We offer counseling and mental health services to help restore and strengthen individuals, families and parish communities.

We are focused on providing assistance to those in need, offering services for individuals, children, teens, couples and families. Our goal is to change our culture by bringing together the teachings of the Catholic Church and the very best in clinical care.

Strengthening families and solving the impacts of generational trauma, Home Based Therapy Program uses evidence-based practice in a more liberal time frame and structure. Working with the Department of Human Services or Social Worker referral program in Denver and Arapahoe counties, the program consists of a small collaborative, highly trained, highly experienced team of clinicians to work with families to help make progress in their treatment goals.

“We are so grateful for the invaluable service and ministry of St. Raphael. The services and support they offer to students and their families in our Catholic Schools has become an important part of the integral human formation we offer to the children in our schools; we’re not just concerned with the mind, but also the soul, body, and heart. St. Raphael Counseling makes it possible for us to offer this formation in a manner where there is no question that the love of Christ will be extended to our children and families through their counselors.”

- Superintendent Elías J. Moo
Office of Catholic Schools of the Archdiocese of Denver

“For I know well the plans I have in mind for you — oracle of the LORD — plans for your welfare and not for woe, so as to give you a future of hope.”

Jeremiah 29:11

The guiding principles of our Community Outreach ministries are the Corporal and Spiritual Works of Mercy. We strive to serve the Lord by providing people with their material and spiritual needs, including feeding the hungry, giving alms to the poor, counseling the doubtful and comforting the sorrowful.

- Patricia

Patricia, an Aurora resident, learned about Little Flower Assistance Center from a dear friend for whom she provided transportation to the center. When Patricia’s husband became ill, she decided to ask Little Flower for help. She was grateful for the assistance during a difficult time and began telling her friends about the center and what they did for her.

She said the staff is “very understanding and helpful” and always “upbeat and good to be around, especially because they listen to you and don’t fuss at you.”

Through Patricia’s enthusiastic support and gratitude, two other families in need came to the Little Flower for assistance.

“Rejoice in hope,
endure in affliction,
persevere in prayer.”

Romans 12:12

Faith in Action provides opportunities to serve the Lord in a tangible way, whether in volunteering with Catholic Charities to serve those in need or in public activities that defend life, marriage and religious liberty.

Volunteers are the lifeblood of the ministries of Catholic Charities and provide opportunities for those in our communities to put their faith into action in a tangible way. The lives of the people we serve — from a family experiencing homelessness to a woman seeking diapers for her infant or a senior citizen needing assistance — are changed by those who give of their time and talents.

Faith in Action is also a way to share the gospel of Jesus Christ through word and deed in the public square, including working with other faith communities to rally around the defense of life from conception to natural death, marriage between a man and a woman and religious liberty. To date, we are working with Colorado Christian University, The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod and The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. We have held public events and are constantly seeking new partners to create a unified front against the culture of moral relativism.

Maddie of Colorado was a teenage freshman at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln when she found out she was unexpectedly pregnant.

“For being so pro-life, the thought of abortion came into my head...for probably one minute,” recalled Maddie. “It definitely came into my head [that] I could do this and no one in my family would even have to know that I was ever even pregnant.”

“...Nothing can really prepare you, no matter how pro-life you are, or how Catholic you are, if you get in that moment.”

An ultrasound revealed Maddie was nearly 20 weeks pregnant. “At that point, the question went from, ‘Do I tell my parents?’ to ‘How do I tell them?’”

Maddie and her mother, Val, discussed the struggles and joys of recent years and the gift of Maddie’s daughter, Ellie Grace. They shared their story during an episode of Respect Life Radio. Maddie also spoke at the Celebrate Life Rally and March in Denver in January 2020 about finding the support she needed to choose life and pursue her dreams.
